

RÉSUMÉ

RAFAEL X. ZAHRALDDIN-ARAVENA practices in the Bankruptcy and Creditors' Rights Group of Morris James LLP and is a commercial litigator. Mr. Zahralddin has represented a variety of creditors, including government entities, preference defendants, secured lenders, and indentured trustees. He also has represented debtors ranging from lead counsel for local businesses to Delaware local counsel and co-counsel to publicly traded companies. In addition to bankruptcy law, Mr. Zahralddin focuses his practice on international and comparative law issues. He is currently a member of the United States Secretary of State Advisory Group on Private International Law, Transnational Insolvency Committee. Prior to joining Morris James LLP, Mr. Zahralddin was a member of the founding faculty of and an Associate Professor of Law at Chapman University School of Law in Orange, California. In addition to being admitted in California and Pennsylvania, Mr. Zahralddin is admitted to practice in the State of Delaware, a jurisdiction known for its business organization laws. More than half of all U.S. publicly-traded companies and "Fortune 500" companies were organized in the state. Similarly, the State of Delaware is known for its experienced judiciary. For the sixth consecutive year in a row, the state's court system received the #1 ranking from the Harris Poll State Liability Systems Ranking Study that is compiled by the United States Chamber of Commerce Institution for Legal Reform.

RAFAEL X.
ZAHRALDDIN-ARAVENA

Bankruptcy
and Creditors' Rights
MORRIS JAMES LLP